ImpactHub Public Office Intern Placement Summer 2025

Minimum Eligibility Criteria

- U.S. citizenship
- High School senior about to enroll in college or current college student (any year)
- Home address in the DFW area

Qualification

The ideal candidate would:

- Preferably have home address and/or voter registration in the official's home district
- Have demonstrated interest in public policy and/or law such as:
 - Pre-law
 - Public policy-relevant major such as Political Science, Public Policy, Public Affairs, etc.
 - Active involvement (e.g. via holding an office) in a political or politically-activist organizations such as College Democrats, College Republicans, SJP, etc.
 - Prior history of volunteering in political campaigns or organizations at any level – federal, state or local
 - <High School only> Participation in Model United Nations
 - Other political experience such as history of advocacy in a public forum for any issue

What you will get out of this experience?

The internship would be an opportunity to enhance your network and expose you to the inner workings of the government, skillset and knowledge that would be invaluable for you as future community leaders.

Important Note

It is possible that the public official's politics may differ from the internship candidate's own political views. The purpose of this initiative is to enhance Muslim representation among staff members at these public offices and to expose selected candidates to the inner workings of the political system. Therefore, it is essential for the intern to perform their jobs with ihsan ('perfection') regardless of their and their employer's political leanings. If you feel you are unable to do so, please refrain from entering your name into consideration.
